About the Physical Agility Testing

The physical agility test of which you are taking part is designed to test your ability to meet the minimum requirements to be successful at the Arizona Law Enforcement Academy. It is important to understand that in order to succeed in today's law enforcement; an individual must be physically fit. In order for you to be successful at the academy, a candidate must meet our qualifications for the physical agility test. The physical and mental demands at the academy are such that if you enter the academy without proper preparation, it will be a very difficult task for a candidate to succeed.

The Physical Agility Test you are to perform is comprised of three components, the pushup, sit up and 1.5 mile run. These components test the following:

- Push-ups (21 in one minute) – Tests the individual's dynamic strength.
- Sit-ups (29 in one minute) – Also tests the individual's dynamic strength and gauges an individual's core strength and core strength endurance
- 1.5 mile run (14 minutes time limit) – Tests a person's cardio vascular endurance.

The Physical Agility Test required for your successful completion as a candidate to become a Tempe Police Officer Recruit is designed to test a candidate's ability to meet the minimum qualifications. It does not guarantee your successful completion of the physical fitness demands at the academy. You are strongly encouraged to continue any fitness program you may have in place. Please obtain doctor's approval before beginning any rigorous physical fitness program. The rigors of the academy are very strenuous. The fitness program at the academy begins at the 40th percentile. You must be able to perform in the 50th percentile by graduation. (The percentages are based on the Cooper Institute for physical fitness.
